JAMES OF ROWLEY BRANCH
First Generation

James Bailey, born about 1612, in England, came to Rowley in the Massachusetts Bay Colony about 1640. He married Lydia Emery. H died in Rowley August 9, 1677. She died in Rowley April 29, 1704.

James Bailey was a brother of Richard Bailey, who came to New England in 1638 in the ship "Bevis." It is not known from what part of England James and Richard came. An account of Richard and his descendants was published by Alfred Poor of Salem, Mass., in 1858, in a book entitled, "Historical and Genealogical Researches in the Merrimack Valley."

Richard Bailey in his will dated in 1648, a copy of which is printed in the Sixth Annual Report of the Bailey-Bayley Family Association, mentions his brother, James, and his nephew, John.

It appears from the town records of Rowley that James Bailey acquired, by allotment and purchase, considerable real estate, and was a citizen in good standing. He held various town offices, including the office of Overseer of the Poor, and also that of Selectman for several years. His house stood on the east side of what is now called Pleasant street in the village of Rowley, on land now owned by Mr. Charles H. Todd.

The record of the original grant is as follows: "To James Bailey one house lott containing an Acre and an halfe lying on the north side of Edward Sawyer's house lott."

Interesting little note on the Cora Bailey school. "Harrison Bailey children did not attend the Sterling School on the Union Chapel Road because it was wooden. Therefore, they may have walked to the Thomas School which was also on Union Chapel Road, but it is located on the East side of Tonkel Road. Cora Bailey is in the second row, last little girl on the end." Thomas school was the one I lived by when we lived on the Leo farm. That would be quite a walk, but not sure just where the Harrison Bailey farm was located. I know where the Wm Bailey farm was and if it was the same one, then it was on the line between Cedar Creek township and Perry township marked by the Tonkel road. Perhaps Thomas would have been as close then as "Duley".

CHAMP BAILEY DIES AFTER LONG ILLNESS

Following a long illness of several months during which time he was bedfast for seven weeks, J. C. Bailey, for many years a groceryman at St. Joe, passed away Saturday morning. Death was due to complications.

He was born in Jackson township, August 29, 1852, and passed away at the age of 75 years, 11 months and 19 days. On April 6, 1876 he was married to Mary McNabb and to this union were born three daughters and two sons, one daughter, Ida, died December 25, 1915. Surviving besides the widow are four children, two sons, B. L. Bailey of Auburn, Robert Bailey of Jackson township, two daughters, Mrs. George Watson of near St. Joe and Mrs. Marvin Poper of St. Joe, also five grandchildren and five great grandchildren, four grandchildren are deceased; two sisters, Mrs. Dora Depew of Auburn, Mrs. George Bender of Big Rapids, Mich., and one brother, R. S. Bailey of Auburn.

He moved to St. Joe in 1900. He engaged in the meat business for years, later turning his attentions to the grocery business of which he and his wife were actively engaged at the time of his departure.

The funeral was held from the home Monday afternoon at 3 o'clock, with Rev. C. H. Havens, of Muncie, officiating, and E. R. Kinsey, funeral director. Burial was made in Riverside cemetery.

BAILEY

Mary Elisabeth McNabb born in Jackson Township, DeKalb County, Indiana, October 4, 1858, departed this life June 6, 1936, at the age of 77 years, 8 months and 2 days. She was married to John C. Bailey April 6, 1876. To this union were born five children, B. L. Bailey, of Auburn, Mrs. Alice Watson, of Jackson Township, Mrs. Ida Pugeley, deceased; Mrs. Winnie Poper and Robert S. Bailey, of near St. Joe.

There are six grandchildren and five great grandchildren, all living. Early in life Mrs. Bailey became a member of the United Brethren Church. For many years she resided on the County Line road and then moved to St. Joe, where her husband engaged in the meat business. At the death of her husband, she made her home with her children, passing away at the home of her daughter and husband, Mr. and Mrs. Marvin Poper.

The funeral was held from the home of Mr. and Mrs. Poper, east of St. Joe, Tuesday afternoon, J. N. Scholes, officiating. Burial was made in Riverside cemetery, St. Joe.

"The Old Must Die."

Benjamin Bailey was born in Essex county, New York, January 11, 1814. Here he passed the early part of his childhood, amid the grand and picturesque scenery of the Adirondack mountains, a place which is destined to produce and develop manhood in the highest degree. At the age of sixteen years he removed with his father and family to Madison county, Ohio. Here he took an active part as one of the young and heroic pioneers, for which, that and the adjacent vicinity was so famous. In 1839 he turned his attention to the land still farther westward, and thus it was that he became one of the sons of toil in our own grand state. In 1841, he married Margaret Scott, who was a young and estimable lady, residing with her parents near Wolf Lake, Noble county, Indiana. He then moved to Fort Wayne, which was then nothing more than a mere trading post. The following year he moved on the old homestead which has ever been so dear to him, and which he redeemed from the primeval forest which the country at that time mostly consisted of. During their married life 13 children were born to them: 5 boys and 8 girls, 12 of whom and the faithful wife and mother, mourn his loss. He departed this life October the 4, 1887, aged 73 years, 8 months and 22 days. Characteristics of the deceased: He was a loyal citizen in the broadest sense of the term. He never lost an opportunity in helping his fellow-men. He was a faithful husband and a loving father, and always gave every other man all the privileges he claimed for himself. Life is a narrow vale between the cold and barren peaks of two eternities. In the gloom of death hope sees a star, but again all hopes are baffled, and the billows roar over a sunken ship. In all the years that are gone, in all the years that are to come, there never was and never will be a stronger loving manlier man.

OBITUARY.

Margaret Bally nee Scott, was born in Madison county, Ohio, Oct. 31, 1821, and departed this life June 10, 1899, aged 77 years, 7 months and 9 days. She was married to Benjamin Bally in 1841. To this union were born thirteen children, nine of whom survive, her husband and four children having preceded her to their final resting place. The funeral took place at Grove Bethel, Tuesday, June 13, and was largely attended. Rev. J. H. Elson, assisted by Rev. W. L. Meese, conducted the funeral services. Interment in Woodlawn cemetery at Auburn. Mrs. Bally was one of the pioneers of DeKalb county, who are passing away one by one, and it will be but a few years when they will live only in the memory of their children and their grand-children.

Pocketbook Lost.

This forenoon about 10:30 Mrs. S. U. Tarney lost her pocketbook between McNabb's meat market, (next to J. Kruger's) and her home, (next to J. Kruger's) containing one ten dollar bill and one five dollar bill, one silver dollar, and some small change, one postoffice key, one bureau key, and two or three receipts from Rebekah lodge I. O. O. F. The pocketbook has in plain writing the name of M. M. Tarney in it in ink. The finder will be suitably rewarded by leaving same at her place.

NEE.

Isaac Farver.

Isaac Farver was born in Ashland county, Ohio, March 23, 1827, and died Sept. 11, 1893 at the age of 66 years, 5 months and 18 days. The funeral was at Rehoboth church near his home, at 10 a. m., of Sept. 14, and the interment was in the cemetery at Spencerville. The services were conducted by Rev. W. W. Lineberry, of the M. P. church. The circumstances of Mr. Farver's death were briefly these: He went up to visit a nephew, Isaac Farver, in the northeast part of Steuben county, on the 7th, and the next evening while unharnessing the horse, was kicked, the blow being in the bowels, and it is supposed there was serious internal injury, though at first he did not think his injuries serious. But he soon grew worse, and in spite of all attempts at relief, died on the 11th. He was brought back home for burial. Mr. Farver was married in Ashland county to Miss Mary A. Myers, July 29, 1851. In 1855 they came to DeKalb county, and settled at Spencerville, where he worked at shoe-making till 1867, when he moved to the farm in Jackson township, that has since been his home. He leaves a wife and three sons and two daughters to mourn for him. Mr. Farver was a man who commanded universal respect, was a worthy citizen and good neighbor. His death leaves a marked gap in the neighborhood that has known him so long.

Card of Thanks.

We desire to thank the kind friends and neighbors who so heartily assisted and cheered us during the sad hours of our recent bereavement, the death of husband and father. It will never be forgotten.

WARREN LIGE DIES AT AGE OF 84 YEARS

Complication of Ailments Fatal to Former Mayor of Auburn
—Funeral Services to be Held Friday Afternoon

10-14-1948

Word of the passing of Warren Lige of 802 East Seventh street, Auburn, at 8:06 o'clock Wednesday night, came as a distinct shock to a host of friends and acquaintances.

The former mayor of Auburn, who served for 13 years, died from a complication of ailments at the Dr. Ronnell Souder hospital, where he had been taken on Tuesday. He had not been in the best of health for several years, although he continued active in business until about a month before his death. He was the owner of the Lige Warming and Ventilating Co., a contracting concern with offices in the Staman building which installed heating plants in schools and other public buildings.

Besides acting as mayor of Auburn, Mr. Lige was a moving spirit in many local enterprises. He served as president of the City National bank at one time, he was a past master of Auburn lodge, No. 214, F. and A. M., was a member of Wm. Hacker chapter, No. 63, R.A.M., DeKalb Council No. 57, R. and S. M., and a 32nd degree Mason. He was a life member of the Auburn Chamber of Commerce and held directorates in a number of local industries. He belonged to the First Methodist church and politically was a democrat.

Mr. Lige was born August 7, 1883, on a farm five miles south of Auburn and resided in Auburn and DeKalb county all of his life. On January 13, 1907 he was married to Louella Hollopeter, who resided south of Auburn, and she survives.

To this union were born four children, Warren Lige, Jr., of 802 East Seventh street, Auburn, MRS. Betty Ineson of Meriden, Conn.; Mrs. Ruth Breeding of Hollywood, Fla., and Walter Lige of Deerfield, Ill. A brother, Joseph Lige of 701 North Main street, Auburn and six grandchildren also survive.

The body was taken to the Gerig funeral home and will remain there until after funeral services, to be held Friday afternoon at 2 o'clock. Rev. H. F. Craven, pastor of the Auburn Presbyterian church, will officiate. Burial will be made in the Cedar Chapel cemetery.

Warren Lige Jr.

AUBURN — Warren Lige Jr., 79, died Saturday, May 29, 2004, at Laurels of DeKalb Nursing Home in Butler.

He was a pharmacist and retired in 1994 from Hook's Drug Store in Auburn.

Previously, he had worked at Romiser Drug Store and Keltch Pharmacy.

Mr. Lige
